This workshop combines practical artwork, image, music, word and silence: no artistic experience is needed. All are welcome ... wherever you are on your spiritual and artistic journeys.

It is not about learning to draw or paint, but about how to use art as a tool to listen and pray in a non-verbal way. Also, being artistic is not a restriction for these workshops!

Sharing reflections on the theme and the work of the day is encouraged, but no one will be forced to speak, if they feel uncomfortable or inappropriate.

The workshop will take its starting point from the reading, Isaiah 43:1-5 – 'I have called you by name' – a passage that speaks of identity, vocation and journeying.

The morning is led by Carol Marples, artist and development worker for the Soul Marks Trust. Carol has been leading Art & Prayer workshops for nearly twenty years in Scotland and beyond.

Participants are encouraged to arrive from around 9.30am, so as to be ready for a prompt 10 o'clock start. Coffee and tea will be provided prior to the workshop beginning.

Places are limited, so please book early.

Access to the event space is via one step. Inside there is a low-stepped ramp. We are happy to provide assistance.
